The annualized seven-day SEC yield was 0.00% for American Funds Money Market Fund, which reflects a reimbursement (-0.37% without the reimbursement) as of June 30, 2012. This yield more accurately reflects the fund's current earnings than does its 30-day yield or total return.

Investment results assume all distributions are reinvested and reflect applicable fees and expenses. When applicable, investment results reflect fee waivers and/or expense reimbursements, without which results would have been lower. Please see americanfunds.com for more information. Although American Funds Money Market Fund has 12b-1 plans for some share classes, the fund is currently suspending certain 12b-1 payments in this low interest rate environment. Should payments commence, the fund's investment results will be lower.

* Class 529-E shares were first offered on February 15, 2002. Class 529-E share results prior to the date of first sale are hypothetical based on Class A share results without a sales charge, adjusted for estimated additional annual expenses. Please visit americanfunds.com for more information on specific expense adjustments and the actual dates of first sale.
